Portfolio of Qualifying Experience Handbook

The Portfolio of Qualifying Experience is a standardized means for candidates to verify the quality of their work as commercial-investment professionals and to document having achieved at least the minimum level of experiences required to qualify for the CCIM designation.

Candidate members may begin compiling their portfolio any time after completing CI 101.

The designation requirements on the CCIM website will always supersede what is written and distributed in the designation handbook or portfolio workshop PowerPoint.

Professionals with these designations can earn the CCIM designation without submission a portfolio through the Fast Track member program:

- AACI
- CLO
- CMB
- CRF
- CPM
- CRE
- FRI
- MAI/SRPA
- RAP
- SIOR
- RICS (MRICS or FRICS)

There are three (3) types of Portfolio of Qualifying Activities that may be submitted for review depending on your level of experience in the industry and/or the types of activities you are submitting.

The three (3) types are as follows:

- Traditional Portfolio (minimum 2 years full time experience requirement at the time of submission)
- Streamlined Portfolio (minimum five years full time experience requirement at the time of submission)
- Streamlined Non-Transactional (minimum of five years full time experience in the same role requirement at the time of submission)

Understanding the Submission Process

Volume Requirements

Candidates must document the following:

1. Three (3) or more qualifying activities totaling $30 million or more, OR;
2. Exactly ten (10) qualifying activities that must total $10 million or more, OR;
3. Twenty (20) qualifying activities without regard to total dollar volume

Qualifying Activities Requirements

Qualifying activities are those that have taken place within five years of the portfolio's submittal date and in which the candidate has had substantial participation. (For example, portfolios submitted March 7, 2015 may not include activities completed prior to March 7, 2010).

Non - Qualifying Activities

Specifically excluded from qualification are:

- Mortgage financing on residential property of four (4) or less units.
- Apartment management and apartment leasing.
- Property management duties.
- Residential appraisals.
- Land sales of four (4) or less single-family unimproved lots.
- The sale or purchase or exchange of personal residences.
- Construction/building, space planning, remodeling of commercial or investment real estate.
- Referral fees from any source including commercial real estate activity.
- Secondary or underlying loans of commercial real estate.
- Assumption loans.
- Leasing of self-storage units, boat slips or billboards.

- All residential investment leases, including apartment lease, condominiums and student housing, do not qualify as activities for the CCIM Portfolio of Qualifying Experience. Apartment and all residential leasing managers do not qualify for the CCIM Portfolio of Qualifying Experience

Traditional Portfolio

The Traditional Portfolio format, so-called because for many years it was the only format available to candidates. The requirements and components for the Portfolio remain the same.

If any of the qualifying activities involve Lease Renewals or Extensions, Financial Analysis, Residential Investment (4 or less residential units) or if candidate has less than 5 years of commercial experience, the candidate must submit a Traditional Portfolio and include the additional documentation required by that category. See the category section of the handbook for more details.

Traditional – The traditional portfolio is available for all commercial real estate professionals, with a minimum of 2 consecutive years of full time experience in commercial real estate at the time of submission. Traditional portfolios are submitted online and require submittal of the following:

- Summary of your qualifying activities, transactions, projects or work products
- Activity Data Form for each activity (signed by Candidate)
- Detailed explanation of role and responsibilities in your position
- Copies of closing/settlement statements for each activity (evidence transaction is complete)
- Verification of employment on company letter head indicating candidate's full name, role with company, start/end dates, and name and position of signer. Letter should be notarized. If activities on the Summary of Qualifying Activities cover periods employment with firm, a letter will be required from each of the firms.

Examples include:

For example, if an Exclusive Representation agreement names the client as "Mary Smith" but no mention of any legal entity. However, the closing documents name the buyer as Main Street LLC without Mary's name included, provide evidence that Mary Smith is a member of the LLC.

5. Proof of Material Participation (Traditional)

The CCIM designation is awarded to individual members, not teams or partnerships. Though you may submit documentation of activities completed with other individuals, your submission must be in your own words and reflect your own individual experiences. Any form of copying may be deemed a violation of these rules. Type, volume, criteria and substantiation required is dependent on the type of qualifying activity. A portfolio may contain a mixture of activities (such as five sales and five leases) in order to achieve the minimum requirements.

Definition of Material Participation

Material is defined as “being of real importance or of great consequence, substantial, relevant, pertinent, requiring serious consideration by reason of having a certain or probable bearing.”

Participation is defined as “the action or state of partaking of something in association with others such as a partnership or an enterprise on a formal basis with specified rights and obligations.” -

- Correspondence or emails documenting the transaction and reflecting your material involvement.

Highlight your name on relevant supporting document.

If you cannot supply one of the two minimum required proofs a Notarized letter* may be submitted by one of the following who can substantiate your material participation in the activity:

6. Recommendations

The letters of recommendation are essential components of the portfolio submission because they provide specific information related to a candidate's personal and professional characteristics or accomplishments. Up to three recommendations may be required.

CCIM Recommendation (Streamlined & Streamlined Non-Transactional)

CCIMs providing recommendations must be active members of the Institute. If you do not already know a CCIM designee, ask your chapter representative if he/she is willing to collaborate with another CCIM (a local chapter member) to conduct a panel interview as a means of obtaining both recommendations. CCIM recommendations are only required for streamlined submissions.

Client Recommendation (Streamlined & Streamlined Non-Transactional)

Provide a recommendation from your client or someone outside the company, such as an attorney, certified public accountant, title officer, or other professional who you conduct business with who can vouch for your knowledge of the real estate business and your professionalism.

Chapter Recommendation (All tracks)

The appointed chapter representative must complete the chapter recommendation letter. Please refer to the list of approved representatives located within your online portfolio.

To request chapter recommendation, candidates must notify the local chapter and schedule an in-person or phone interview with the appointed chapter representative. Candidates must be prepared to send the verification and recommendation form, a professional resume, and a summary of qualifying activities to the chapter representative prior to the interview. Requests must be sent at least two weeks before the published portfolio deadline. In-person meetings should be done in the candidate's work environment.

Candidates should plan to discuss their past work history in commercial real estate at the interview. It may also be helpful for candidates to familiarize themselves with their local CCIM chapter's benefits and services.

Questions about Qualifications

If there is a question about whether your specialization qualifies for the designation, refer to the overall principal: “There must be substantial involvement with real property of a commercial and/or investment nature”

As a standardized means of assessing that your experience qualifies for the designation, please follow the guidelines indicated below. Provide as much documentation and explanation as you can. Your portfolio needs to clearly identify a character and level of activity consistent with experience requirements applied to all other candidates. The following factors will be taken under consideration:

- Years of experience or business activity.
- Nature of position or assignment and type of responsibility.
- Evidence of achievement in specialty (i.e., corporate review, advancement, professional designations, advanced degrees, special recognition).
- Volume or quantity of work.
- Samples of actual work product of each activity

What Graders Look For in Portfolios

Graders are CCIM designees who are proud to wear their pins and have gone through the rigorous process of preparing a portfolio. The graders look for a presentation that reflects the quality of work expected from a CCIM designee.

If the graders determine that your portfolio does not adequately document your involvement in a transaction, they may request additional information. Typically, they’ll ask for a 3 to 5-page narrative that describes your participation in the transaction. They may also request additional documentation to verify the activity in which you were involved.

If you have questions about preparing your portfolio, contact the designation department at designation@ccim.com or consult your local CCIM chapter for assistance.

Confidentiality

Contents of the portfolios are kept confidential by the Institute. To guarantee the confidentiality of sensitive information and avoid conflicts of interest, graders do not review portfolios submitted from their own states or from candidates with whom they are familiar.

Portfolio graders are obligated to verify the candidate's material participation in an activity as required by the CCIM Institute. An alternate activity must be chosen by the candidate when client confidentiality in an activity prohibits the disclosure of any or all of the required documentation as listed in the portfolio handbook.

The candidate must provide sufficient facts and information for the grader to be able to read, understand and grade the activity.

If there is attorney/client privilege preventing disclosure, candidates may be required to submit a different or alternate transaction.

When Confidentiality is an Issue:

1. Go directly to the client/customer and discuss what you are trying to achieve and request the client's written permission for release. If permission is not granted, candidates must submit a different transaction
2. Create a document for the client or customer to sign verifying that you were directly involved in the transaction and that the client has given permission to disclose particulars of the transaction. Always ask.
3. An engagement letter should include the client's name, property identification, fee and type of work that was completed. The client must have their signature notarized.
4. Inform the client/customer that the Portfolio of Qualifying Experience is not used for marketing or public display and that it will be destroyed after it is reviewed by the CCIM grader
5. Some clients/customers may ask for copies of what you are going to submit to CCIM prior to submission. Consider providing these to your clients so they understand your situation

Corporate Confidentiality

You must be able to provide adequate documentation to verify the activity and to demonstrate your participation. Contact the CCIM designation department for further assistance.

Portfolio graders are obligated to verify the candidate's material participation in an activity as required by the CCIM Institute which should include:

- Property location
- Dollar volume
- Transfer
- Property case study

Senior portfolio graders review this information with sensitivity and confidentiality. Most likely this information can be provided in a letter from the corporate chief financial officer that attests to the above information.

Qualifying Experience

Commercial Real Estate Exchange/Acquisitions/Sales

- Qualifying Activity: Sale or transfer of title to commercial or investment real estate, as set forth herein, that involves a deed.
Land including but not limited to properties such as a ranch, timber or farm is an acceptable qualifying activity as long as the transaction is not considered solely as a business transaction (such as a dairy farm) and the underlying real estate is held for investment purposes, in compliance with IRS Code* 1221 and/or 1231. The real estate is always the underlying factor in the transaction, not the existence of any business transaction. If the raw land is considered to be a speculative investment hold transaction, substantiation of such future growth or change in use should be provided. Documentation of the expected changes to the property should be included; examples of documentation would be an aerial photograph to show the path of growth, supporting demographics, etc.
- Volume: Determined by value of property conveyed.
- Substantiation: A copy of the recorded and signed deed or a closing statement signed by all principals, or in escrow states, by the escrow officer or other title company official, and the candidate.

*Visit irs.gov for code details

Auctions: Activities that involve the use of auctions must be submitted under the traditional track. A detailed financial and market analysis (use of CCIM Skills) must have been performed in the sale of the property and such documentation provided with the portfolio. "Caller and cashier" services do not qualify.

Only submit pages that include significant elements:

- Legal description of the property.
- HIGHLIGHT YOUR SIGNATURE and proof of all material participation.

Commercial Financial Analyst

The job responsibilities of someone with the financial analyst title vary greatly from company to company. Financial analysts whose job responsibilities include providing analysis and written recommendations based on this analysis to the ownership and/or transaction team pertaining to scenarios related to qualified commercial transactions involving the leasing and/or sale of commercial properties may qualify. This involves far more than just entering data into a financial software program. The candidate must show a higher level of understanding and interpretation other than simply inputting data and must also show a clear recommended course of action based on their analysis for an activity to qualify.

- Qualifying Activity: Completed and closed leasing transaction of commercial (office, retail and industrial) real estate, with a lease term of one year or more, or the completed and closed sale or transfer of title to commercial or investment real estate, as set forth herein, that involved a deed.
- Volume: See requirements for commercial investment real estate lease and sale/purchase/exchange.
- Substantiation: See requirements for commercial investment real estate lease and sale/purchase/exchange. Additionally, provide an explanation of your specific role in each transaction, copies of the financial analysis and written recommendations, acknowledgements (at least two proofs) of the recommendation from the team/owner being reported to and an explanation of how your recommendations were either followed or not followed in the actual transaction. The portfolio grader may request additional information to substantiate your role in the transaction.

Commercial Investment Real Estate Leasing

- Qualifying Activity: Completed and closed leasing transactions of commercial (office, retail and industrial) real estate, with a lease term of one year or more.
- Volume: Determined by gross or the base value (base rent) of the lease signed (exclusive of automatic renewals, options, separately billed taxes, insurance and operating expenses, etc.) Example: three-year lease at $10,000 rental/year = $30,000 volume. Volume must be calculated by candidate or candidate must provide a worksheet showing how the volume of the rental was calculated and highlight the rental figures in the lease.
- Substantiation: Fully executed copy of the lease. Only submit pages that include significant elements: legal description of the property, the agreed-upon lease amount, signatures (HIGHLIGHT YOUR SIGNATURE) and any other pertinent pages that document your role.
- Real Estate lease renewals may only qualify if the candidate can demonstrate that the new lease renewal substantially changed the lease beyond the extension of time and rental amount, such as a major expansion, relocation, change in the type of lease form (i.e. Fully Service lease to Triple Net lease agreement), or if the candidate can demonstrate that the renewal of the existing lease required a substantial amount of time and effort negotiating rental rates and other major market issues with either the Tenant and/or the Landlord, and must have included the use of a detailed market analysis. In the case of the Tenant, it must include showing the tenant alternative locations in the market. A copy of the market analysis must be submitted along with the trail of correspondence (letters, emails, tour lists, etc.) substantiating the amount of time and effort involved.
- Residential leases, including apartment leases, do not qualify as activities for the portfolio. Apartment and all residential leasing managers do not qualify.
- The leasing of self-storage units, billboards, boat slips and similar activities do not qualify.

Commercial Mortgage Financing of Commercial Real Estate

Lender or mortgage broker candidates who are directly involved in the origination, brokerage and/or underwriting of loans on completed commercial or investment real estate, as set forth herein, may qualify.

- Volume: Determined by value of financing
- Substantiation: Copy of the signed loan documents, closing statements and mortgage/deed of trust.
- Candidates who have applied for and received or acquired loans for their own benefit or for the benefit of an entity in which they are employed or involved do not qualify. Secondary or any underlying positions of commercial real estate and assumption loans do not qualify.

Commercial Real Estate Appraiser

Candidates that are full time Commercial Appraisers who are directly involved in appraisals of qualified commercial real estate (developed, not raw land) may qualify.

- Qualifying Activity: Performance as a third-party fee appraiser relating to the transfer or finance of qualifying developed commercial property where a complete appraisal report was prepared (using all three methods for determining value) and specific compensation was received. To qualify, all activities must be at arm's length without conflict of interest.
- Volume: Determined by value of property appraised.
- Substantiation: Copy of the full and complete appraisal report, proof of delivery of the report to the client, identify the client and an explanation of the purpose of the appraisal, proof of value and copy of the payment made to you for services.

Commercial Real Estate Consulting

- Qualifying activity: Performance by a third-party fee consultant (outside financial analysis, tax consultant, asset manager, etc.) relating to the evaluation, transfer, leasing, or development of qualifying property where a complete consultant's report, which must include financial analysis and recommendations being made on different courses of action, was prepared and specific compensation was received based on the agreed contract. To qualify, all consulting activities must be at arm's length, without conflict of interest.
- Volume: Determined by the value of the proposed transaction or development project. In each case the value must be substantiated by financial calculations showing the transaction value and/or the future value of the developed property, or the value of the component that was the focus of the consultation if less than the whole transaction/project.
- Substantiation: Submit a copy of the consulting/independent contractor agreement or engagement letter that sets forth the scope of work to be performed, copy of the full and complete consultant's report, proof of delivery of the report to the client, commentary on course of action taken following consultation with client (transaction/project completed, altered or not undertaken), proof of value and copy of the payment made to you for services for consultation set forth in the consultation agreement.

Commercial Real Estate Development

- Qualifying Activity: The development project must be completed (built), not proposed. To qualify: Completed developments must result in substantial change in character or the use of property that can be fully documented and analyzed.

Qualifying Residential Investment Properties

The sale, purchase or exchange of any residential property of four (4) or less units in which the Buyer, after closing, held the property solely for investment purposes would qualify provided that it meets all of the following criteria. If you cannot supply all the documentation as listed, do not submit the residential transaction. If you are submitting a portfolio that includes any residential investment properties, the entire portfolio must be submitted in the Traditional format.

1. Properties may not be owner-occupied by the Buyer
2. For all qualifying residential properties, substantiation of a written lease for the property covering a twelve (12) month period after the sale has closed must exist and must be submitted
3. A property where financial analysis has been used in the marketing of the property.
4. You are required to provide a detailed narrative that describes your participation in the transaction

Substantiation: In addition to the documents required for the Sale/Purchase/Exchange category (such as signed closing documents, recorded deed, and proofs of material involvement, etc.) to qualify as a Residential Investment Property it will be necessary to provide all of the following:

1. Copies of the financial analysis that were used prior to and during the sale of the property showing the potential return as an investment property.
2. Copy of the fully executed lease(s) entered into after the sale of the property. Only submit pages that include significant elements: parties to the lease, term of lease, legal description of the property, that agreed-upon lease amount, signatures pages.
3. Notarized statement from the Buyer that substantiates the property as a non-owner occupied investment.
4. Copies of that portion of the Buyer's tax return after purchasing the property showing the income, expense, and depreciation for the property. If a tax return has not been filed yet on the property (recent purchase), a signed and notarized Affidavit from the Buyer's CPA or Accountant attesting to the fact that the income, expense, and depreciation will be declared on the Buyer's next tax return.

Note: All residential leases are non-qualifying activities and are only used for proof that a residential property is an income producing investment. Hotel leases, apartment leases, condominium, single-family or multifamily leases are not qualifying activities.

Portfolio Submittal

You are strongly encouraged to start compiling your portfolio file once you complete CI 101. Don't wait until the end of the program and then have to recreate your work from memory. Every time you complete a qualifying activity, make copies of the documents that verify its completion and your material participation. In addition, make notes about your role so you'll have a running start on your activity data forms. If you have been accumulating materials all along, preparing the portfolio won't be so difficult.

Timeline

Published portfolio deadlines refer to the last date that will allow for review and grading prior to the next Comprehensive Examination. Portfolio Review sessions are scheduled in advance of the Comprehensive Examinations to allow sufficient time for revisions and re-grading. Portfolios may be submitted at any time during your candidacy. Those who have completed all their education requirements and whose portfolios have been approved by the Comprehensive Examination deadline will be eligible for that exam. Portfolio submittal deadlines are also available in other Institute publications, on www.ccim.com, at chapter meetings and through chapter newsletters

Grading Results

Results of the grading session are e-mailed within one week of the grading session. Candidates are asked to refrain from calling for results unless they have not received them by e-mail within one week of the grading session.

Disqualifications

Breach of portfolio rules/guidelines may result in disqualification of individual activities or the portfolio in its entirety. Duplicate portfolios/activities in the case of partnerships or teams will result in the disqualification of all related portfolios. Falsification of information will permanently disallow the entire portfolio.

Portfolio Revisions

Revisions of disapproved portfolios will be accepted for re-grading until 30 days from notification. If revisions are approved and all other requirements are fulfilled, the candidate may submit the application for CCIM designation and register for the Comprehensive Examination.

Appeals Process

Applicants whose Portfolios of Qualifying Experience are disallowed may appeal that decision to a review board comprised of three members selected from each of the following committees: Executive, Designation, and Professional Standards. Members are appointed by the CCIM President.

Portfolio Review

Portfolios are reviewed by the designation department to determine whether they qualify for the grading session. If items are found lacking or the format does not conform to the requirements, you will be advised of a date by which revisions must be received to be eligible for grading.

International Portfolios

All portfolios must be submitted in English. Supporting documentation that is submitted in a foreign language must highlight and translate the type of document, name of candidate, transaction amount and names of parties involved into English and U.S. dollars on the document.

Portfolio Workshops

*For more and individual assistance with the Portfolio of Qualifying Experience, candidates are encouraged to attend a CCIM Portfolio Workshop. Please check with your local CCIM chapter or the CCIM Institute for dates and locations.

Frequently Asked Questions

How would commercial property managers qualify?

A property manager can qualify in two ways:

- If the person holds the CPM or RPA designation, he or she can apply through the fast-track program
- If the commercial property manager (regardless of whether they hold the CPM and/or RPA designation) can document significant material involvement in the commercial leasing of or the sale/purchase/exchange of a qualifying commercial property, he or she may qualify. The volume would be based on the gross amount of the commercial lease or value of the transferred commercial real estate. See the sections on “Commercial Investment Real Estate Leasing” and/or “Commercial Real Estate Exchange/Acquisitions/Sales” for more details.

How would tenant in common sales representatives qualify?

A tenant-in-common sales representative can qualify in two ways:

- A minimum of $500,000 in gross (commercial & investment) income during the preceding five-year period.
- Income based on commission derived from qualified transactions as defined

If a candidate is the listing and selling agent in one deal, does it count as one or two?

The transaction is only one transaction and the deal volume is counted as the sale price or gross lease amount.

Can candidates from the same company use the same transaction if they both participated in it?

The candidates can use the same transaction, however, they must write in their own words what took place in the activity and demonstrate their specific involvement and how it was different than the other candidate's. Portfolios submitted from the same company are graded by the same grader to ensure that candidates are completing their own work.

Can I sign my own affidavit if I am the owner of the company?

No, you must have a CPA verify ownership of business and the potential volume in commercial activity.

If I reach the required dollar volume in less than five years in the industry, can I submit a Streamlined Portfolio?

No, you must submit work experience confirming at least five (5) years in the commercial real estate industry.

I am working on a development or consulting project but the transaction has not closed yet. May I submit the transaction?

Only completed activities may be submitted. In the case of a commercial real estate development the project must be completed. In a consulting project the report must be completed.

I cannot retrieve the settlement documentation. May I bypass that requirement?

All activities require some form of settlement documentation to show completion/closing of the transaction. For a Streamlined resume of experience, you will submit an affidavit with your transaction summary.

Go to portfolio.ccim.com to download the required forms and start uploading your documents.
